HOW THE PROCESS WORKS

The Smart Divorce is a one-on-one, results-oriented consulting process offered by Deborah Moskovich. Sessions are between 60 to 120 minutes, conducted in person or by telephone. The number and duration of sessions is tailored to your specific needs.

Acting as your divorce consultant, confidante and sounding board, Deborah helps you to assess and understand the various divorce options, find the right divorce professionals for your situation and how to manage your team of professionals so they are getting you the best results.

In her role as a Divorce Consultant, Deborah Moskovich does not offer legal or therapeutic advice. She helps you to find and work effectively with those professionals so the entire divorce process is managed in a smart and effective manner for your situation.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SMART DIVORCE CONSULTING:

- Understand the divorce dispute resolutions available so you are considering the one that is the best for your situation and will save you time and money.
- Interview and choose the right divorce lawyer for your situation.
- Ask the right questions of legal counsel and experts so you are getting the maximum value for your time and money.
- Organize and manage your divorce file to better control the process.
- Assess what experts you might want to add to your divorce team.
- Access referrals to lawyers, therapists, mediators, accountants and financial experts, organizations and literature.
- Cope with the emotional turmoil so important legal and financial decisions are not compromised.
- Map out goals, needs and concepts to move forward with the next chapter of your life!
